Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Mann US 5,514,081.

As to claim 11, Mann discloses an orthotic device for manipulating a user's limb comprising a structural body portion (76), an inflatable member (34), a retention member (straps 92 and 94), interconnecting said structural body portion and said inflatable member such that a portion of the limb can be inserted between the body portion and inflatable member, and an inflating device (58) for inflating the inflatable member such that the member tends increase tension in said retention member such that said limb is urged towards the structural body portion to result in extension of the limb.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 5-10 and 12-16 allowed.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 2/12/2007 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that the inflatable member of Mann does not tend to increase tension in said retention member. To state that the member tends to increase tension is broadly interpreted and meaning it may or may not increase the tension. So if the device of Mann does or does not increase the tension in said retention member the limitations of the claim are still fulfilled. Furthermore, it is apparent the device of Mann is fully capable of increasing the tension in a manner as disclosed in the claims. When the inflatable member is inflated, it is obvious that the pressure on the limb increase thus increasing the tension in the retention member or any other portion of the device.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
